Abortifacient Birth Control (ABC)

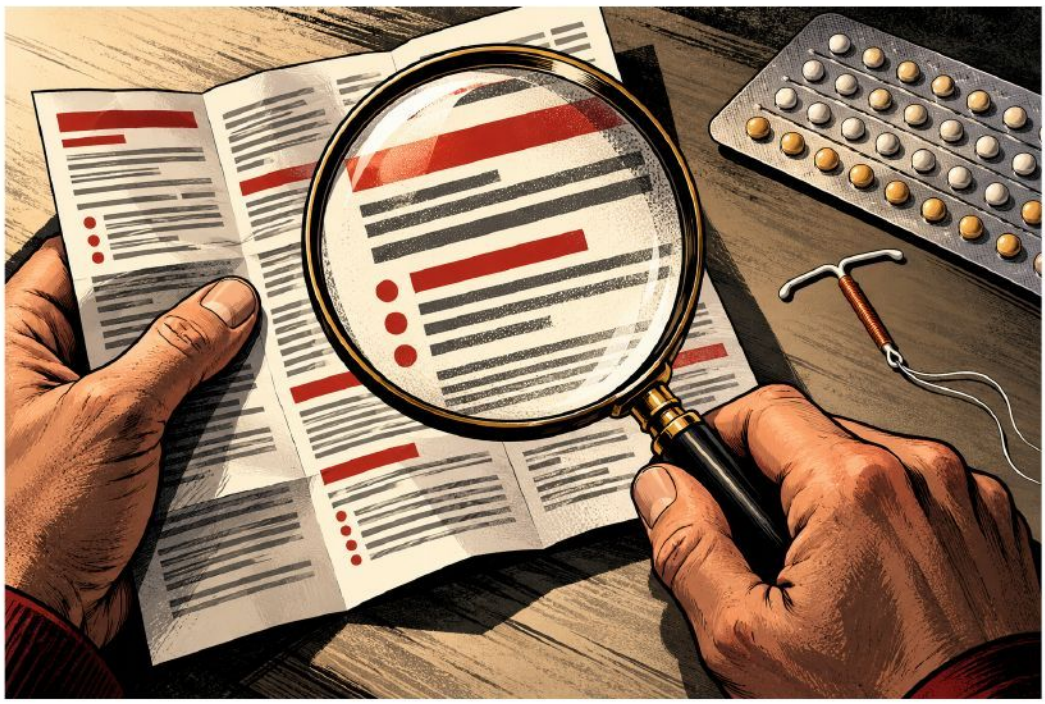

What Every Christian Needs to Know

Have you ever considered how Abortifacient Birth Control actually works? What would you do if you learned that pills and IUDs commonly used by women, including many Christian women, had a mechanism in them that could potentially kill their child?

While people claim that birth control pills/IUDs do not kill babies, further research clearly demonstrates that certain forms of birth control act as abortifacients by “preventing implantation after conception.”

The package inserts of oral contraceptives often include the following FDA-approved information:

“Combination oral contraceptives act by suppression of gonadotropins. Although the primary mechanism of this action is inhibition of ovulation, other alterations include changes in the cervical mucus, which increase the difficulty of sperm entry into the uterus, and changes in the endometrium, which reduce the likelihood of implantation.[1]"

The Three Mechanisms of Birth Control:

Mechanism #1: Prevents Ovulation - Non-abortifacient

Mechanism #2: Thickening Cervical Mucus, which Prevents Sperm Penetration - Non-abortifacient

Mechanism #3: Thinning the Endometrium of the Uterus, which Prevents Implantation - Abortifacient

The third mechanism listed is the focus of concern. Life begins at the moment of fertilization, so anything that intentionally prevents an embryo from implanting in his/her mother's uterus kills the baby. Progestin is the primary hormone responsible for preventing implantation.[2] Different forms of progestin (such as levonorgestrel, etonogestrel, or norethindrone) are found in hormonal birth control pills[3], implants[4], and hormonal IUDs[5]. It is also important to note that other forms of birth control that do not contain progestin can still prevent implantation and kill a child. Copper IUDs are one example of a non-hormonal birth control that does this.[6]

While it is impossible to know how often birth control prevents fertilization vs. implantation, the fact that women can get pregnant even while on birth control is evidence that the first and second mechanisms of birth control do fail.

At this point, you may be wondering, “Why does no one talk about this?”

Frankly, it is painful to embrace the reality of ABC. To put it simply, anyone using such birth control could potentially kill their child(ren). This is murder or manslaughter (depending on knowledge level), and it must stop immediately. This information should rock us to our core when we consider the number of women currently using birth control, churchgoers included.

The Law: What God Requires

God’s law is holy, righteous, and good (Romans 7:12). It reveals His perfect standard and exposes sin for what it truly is. The sixth commandment — “You shall not murder” (Exodus 20:13) — protects human life from conception onward. Scripture affirms that God knows us and forms us in the womb (Psalm 139:13–16; Jeremiah 1:5), establishing that the unborn child is a full image-bearer of God.

Those who have used abortifacient birth control, whether knowingly or unknowingly, need the same grace as every sinner. The law does not leave room for ignorance as an excuse, but it also does not have the final word.

The Gospel: What Christ Has Done

The gospel is the good news that Jesus Christ bore the full weight of our sin on the cross. He entered the world through the womb of His mother, lived a life of perfect submission to the law of God, died on the cross paying the penalty for our sin, and then three days later, he rose from the dead, securing forgiveness, adoption, and eternal life for all who repent and trust in Him.

There is no sin too great for the blood of Christ to cover. The same Lord who commands us not to murder is the Lord who “came not to call the righteous, but sinners” (Mark 2:17). The gospel offers full and free forgiveness to those who have participated in abortifacient birth control, whether as users, counselors, or advocates.

“If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.” — 1 John 1:9

How Should I Respond?

The proper response to this truth is to first acknowledge that abortifacient birth control is a direct violation of God's commands to love your neighbor as yourself and not murder anyone. If you've used birth control, counseled others to go on birth control, or openly supported birth control in any way, you must repent immediately. Confess your sin to Christ, stop approving what God hates, and love your neighbor as yourself.

What does it look like to love your neighbor as yourself in this specific situation?

It starts by simply telling those for whom you are responsible – family members, friends, fellow church members, etc. Even if you are certain that they know or don't use it, why take a chance with the potential, unjust killing of image-bearers? Now that you know the truth about birth control, it is your responsibility to warn others and plead with them to repent and turn to Christ.

To pastors and church leaders specifically, you must speak to your congregation openly, warn them clearly, and call for immediate action. Your message should emphasize four truths:

- The seriousness of the issue
- The need to stop using potentially abortifacient methods
- The need to warn others about this issue
- The availability of forgiveness in Christ
